The yearly wellness visit is for people who have been on Medicare for more than 12 months. You should schedule this visit once a year.

At this visit, your physician should:
- Complete a comprehensive review of your medical and family health history.
- Check your height, weight and blood pressure.
- Calculate your body mass index.
- Do a simple vision test.
- Give you advice to help you prevent disease, improve your health and stay well.
- Make appropriate referrals when necessary.

You pay nothing if your physician accepts Medicare.

Your Physician Visits
Medicare covers two types of preventive physician visits—your initial Welcome to Medicare preventive visit and your yearly wellness visit—and most of your important shots and screenings at no cost to you.

The one-time Welcome to Medicare preventive visit is for people new to Medicare. You can only get this visit within the first 12 months you’re enrolled in Part B.

At this visit, your physician should:
- Complete a comprehensive review of your medical and family health history.
- Check your height, weight and blood pressure.
- Calculate your body mass index.
- Do a simple vision test.
- Give you advice to help you prevent disease, improve your health and stay well.
- Make appropriate referrals when necessary.

You pay nothing if your physician accepts Medicare.

Partner with Your Physician
The best way to take care of yourself is to team up with your physician to get the shots and screenings you need.

The Affordable Care Act, the health care law recently enacted, makes available more screenings and shots that are at no cost to people with Medicare.

To Stay Healthy, Get Talking
If you have Medicare, you have a unique opportunity to talk with your physician about your health problems, review the medications you take and make a plan for your health. That plan should include the shots and screenings that are right for you.

Take advantage of every chance to talk with your physician and play an active role in your own health care.

Shots and Screenings You Should Know About
Your physician may suggest recommended shots to prevent flu and pneumonia and schedule screenings or tests. Some examples of helpful screenings your physician may recommend are:

- Cardiovascular screening
  Blood pressure and blood cholesterol and fat tests check your heart health.
  $ You pay nothing if your physician accepts Medicare.

- Diabetes screening
  A blood test can detect if your blood has too much sugar.
  $ You pay nothing if your physician accepts Medicare.

- Colorectal cancer screening
  Various screening tests or procedures help physicians find growths in your colon and rectum before they become cancerous or find cancer at an early stage. You and your physician will choose the most appropriate screening for you.

  $ Your Medicare co-payment will vary depending on the screening. If your physician finds growths, he or she may remove them at that time. You may need to pay the Medicare co-payment for this extra procedure.

  $ You pay nothing if your physician accepts Medicare.
