I take medications for Epilepsy every day...

but still have Seizures.

What more can I do?

If you experience uncontrolled seizures—those that occur three or more times a month and aren't adequately controlled with medications—you may know the tremendous frustration, anxiety and difficulty they can cause. This could be your chance to take action and explore an investigational therapy that may help reduce your uncontrolled seizures.

You or someone you know may be eligible to participate in a clinical research study to determine the safety and effectiveness of an investigational implanted device for uncontrolled seizures.

Call 1-866-904-6635 for details about this clinical research study for an investigational therapy for uncontrolled seizures.
